Rob,

I think it is a good idea to bring in NRCS at a point in time but I suggest EPA and NOAA/NMFS regroup first to set the stage for a broader discussion.

I suggested the CZARA small group consider inviting NRCS to join for purposes of partnering on ag issues... Here are the names and emails of the two key managers for NRCS here (both are in our building).

State conservationist - in charge of NRCS for Oregon: ron.alvarado@or.usda.gov

Shaun McKinney, Acting Director, West National Technology Center NRCS shaun.mckinney@por.usda.gov (Shaun and his team have considerable scientific expertise, but I understand they get involved in issues at the request of the state offices.)
